

Who said spring fever is causing all the trouble.

This is nice weather to get busy on the brick street proposition.

WHY not rent Sutton street for a junk yard? How much, Mr. MIDDLEMAN, will you give a year for this nice place for a bone yard and a junk heap?

THE City Council says that brick streets cannot be put down until the necessary sewers are laid. Well, who is going to construct the sewers, Santa Claus?

Forty crossings—count them yourself—in the City of Maysville, that are not on the map. And there are millions of brick and tons of concrete on the market, too.

THE chance for getting a private bill through Congress would seem to be about as good as finding a needle in a haystack. Of the 51,000 private bills introduced in the last Congress only 175 were enacted.

TIME was when Sutton street was one of the busiest and prettiest in Maysville and one could enjoy a promenade along the classic old thoroughfare. Now, however, a person has difficulty in threading his way on either side, while the street itself is as bad as a country creek road. This is no libel or exaggeration.

A CHICAGO Preacher has made a half million dollars speculating on the side. That is, he made the money minding his own business and letting other people's business alone. A moral to this.

It rests with the City Council whether Maysville is to be on the boom or on the bum. It is not a pleasant thought to see public improvements humming in all our sister cities while Maysville sits with her thumb in her mouth suffering with a chronic attack of that old Kentucky tired feeling.

NO WONDER Maysville hasn't but two automobiles. If we had brick streets there would be a score scooting around like fairy cars. But, then, somebody might get hurt. Yes, and it wouldn't hurt to see a mossback or two get run over by an auto. The shaking up might do them good. You know some people have to have a brick street fall on them before they wake up.

THE residents of West Second street are getting ready for the annual battle with the summer dust. It is a fact that the mud can be thicker and deeper in West Second in winter and the dust worse in summer than any other quarter of a mile of public street on earth. This could all be ended this season with a vitrified brick street and a concrete sidewalk on the North side. Think of what a lovely thoroughfare this would make with a lovely promenade on the side!

Hentrie Firman and Lester Wallingford, Maysville High School boys, ran a half mile foot race yesterday at the race track in Clifton, Wallingford winning in 2:41, Firman finishing in 3:4 minutes.

A special series of meetings began last evening at the First M. E. Church, South. Preaching every evening at 7:30 o'clock by Rev. B. C. Horton of Fort Thomas, Ky. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these meetings.

Reed & Dawson will begin work today on their 10,000 square feet of concrete around the New High School Building. They have given bond for the completion of the contract, which will total close to $1,300. It is their purpose to finish the entire work in two weeks after they get a good start.

Mrs. Sherman Ann gave an icecream supper Saturday night in the Glasgow Building, corner of Second and Sutton streets, that netted $18 for the enterprising lady. Mrs. Ann teaches a class in the Baptist Sunday-school and she has in view the commendable purpose of giving her scholars an outing and trip to the Cincinnati Zoo sometime this summer, and the supper was given to supply the money to pay expenses of the trip. The amount thus far secured is not sufficient for the excursion and the supper will be repeated at some near future date, so have in mind the good intent with which the funds thus derived are to be expended and patronize the good woman in her laudable undertaking.

"IL TROVATORE" BEAUTIFULLY RENDERED.

Despite the heavy downpour of a cold April rain, many music lovers of Maysville braved the frowning elements last night to witness the rendition of Verdi's masterpiece, "Il Trovatore," at the Washington Theater by The Boston Grand Opera Company. The opera was a veritable feast of song and the audience was charmed beyond measure by the excellence of the splendid company. Every member of the troupe was an artist, and their interpretation of the characters deserved the numerous encores which the small, but appreciative audience gave them. Mr. Starling's company is a worthy musical organization and can hold its own with the best of such metropolitan singers.

PASSED THE FALLS

Messrs. Pelham and Rasp Maysville Men, Making Record Run

The many friends of Lewis Pelham and Conrad Rasp, who are touring the waters of the beautiful Ohio, Mississippi and Tennessee rivers, have received word that the bold navigators passed the Falls of the Ohio at Louisville Monday at 2 p. m. and were heading for Paducah, their next stop. Their gasoline launch, the "Swastika," is a 35-foot entirely seaworthy craft fitted out for the 2,200-mile trip with all the necessary paraphernalia.

The ship's log will be interesting reading when the Maysville tars return home.

Municipal Expenditure.

All American cities, says the Minneapolis Journal, should do more for their people. That they do not is sometimes a marvel. The reason for the paucity of results is difficult to find. Undoubtedly much money is wasted. Unquestionably some is stolen. But carelessness and graft do not account for the whole situation. The true cause is probably the fact that in everything it buys, from the cheapest labor to highest priced material, the city gets less for its money year in and year out than the private purchaser. Uncle Sam has the reputation of driving hard bargains, but our American cities never have achieved such fame. They still buy in the dearest and sell when they have anything to sell—in the cheapest market—Cincinnati Citizens' Bulletin.

SEES A WORLD WAR

Editor Stead Predicts Awful Results From Turkish Revolt

"The outburst of a counter revolution in Constantinople may involve the whole world in war," declared William T. Stead in London. "Old-world Powers hope for the best, but are preparing for the worst. The Bulgarians, who missed their first chance of rushing on Constantinople last July, are now presented with a second and better opportunity. "An attack upon Turkey last summer would have outraged the moral sense of the continent. To depose despots, restored by military pronouncements, is a much less formidable undertaking."
